

IT IS A ROYAL GIFT

The Heart Library to Be Built on the Most Generous Plans.

THERE'LL BE NO DELAY

Some of the Books Purchased by Mrs. Hearst Already in Town—Present Quarters Made for Them in Third Street.

The building at the corner of Cherry street and Third, formerly known to the people of Anaconda as the "big brick," is undergoing complete transformation. Workmen have been engaged during the week in removing many of the partitions, and both stories of the structure will be completely overhauled. The object is to make this building the temporary receptacle for the books which will ultimately find a place on the shelves in the Hearst library building.

During her visit to Anaconda a few months ago, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst announced her intention of making the city of Anaconda the recipient of a gift at her hands. Mrs. Hearst concluded that a public library would be the most useful form in which the gift could be embodied, and during her brief visit here, she gave personal inspection of several sites which seemed best suited for the building. The definite choice of the location has not yet been made. However, immediately on her return to Washington, Mrs. Hearst commissioned a skilled architect to prepare plans for the building. These are already under way.

It will be, by long odds, the finest library building in these parts, not less than $100,000 being asked for the structure itself. It will be built in accordance with the most modern ideas in library construction, and be, at the same time, a model of beauty in an architectural way.
All the plans will be completed without delay, so that work on the library may begin next year in the weeks of early spring.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Hearst has commissioned the purchase of books for the proposed new library. Several large cases of books, being the first arrivals, reached this city three days ago. These are in store at the railway station. They will be removed to the Cherry street building and put in place temporarily as soon as that building can be fitted for their reception.
Under Mrs. Hearst's direction the library will be selected with regard to its general use and patronage by the public, and it will also embrace a complete reference library. Many thousand volumes can be placed on shelves in the temporary quarters, but it is probable that the bulk of the collection will remain boxed until the new building is ready for the reception of its treasures.

All the news regarding the new library is received in town with greatest interest.
Congratulations are everywhere exchanged, and the value of the splendid gift finds appreciation with all classes in the community. As they always say around the Christmas tree, "It is just what Anaconda wanted."

We, the undersigned, having been stationed as government officials at various times at E. McKenna's distillery, Fairfield, Nelson county, Ky., while his distillery was running, and knowing how his whiskey is manufactured, certify that it is exactly what he represents it to be.

He uses no lime, chemicals nor patent grain; nothing but corn, rye and barley malt.

All the grain used at his distillery is carefully selected.

He makes in the small tubs by hand, making strictly old fashioned hand-made sour mash whiskey.

His whiskey is absolutely pure, and we recommend it to those needing pure whiskey.
